

WOULD FORCE FLAT HEATING.

Bill Requires Heat Whenever Thermometer Outside Registers 60.

New York.—Assemblyman Greenburg of the Thirty-first district has introduced in the assembly a bill the first section of which provides that "owners of tenements and apartment houses in cities of the first class wherein appliances for the supply of steam are installed shall furnish such appliances with steam for the heating of the flats and apartments in such tenement and apartment houses whenever the thermometer registers 60 degrees Fahrenheit, or under, in the open air and to continue supplying such steam heat in said flats and apartments during the fall, winter and spring, whenever the thermometer shall register in the open air 60 degrees Fahrenheit or under."

The second section provides that the "owner or lessee in control of any tenement or apartment house shall have on hand in said apartment house or tenement not less than two tons of coal of the variety generally used for furnaces in generating steam heat."

This clause is inserted because of the frequency with which landlords excuse to their tenants a deficiency of heat by pleading that they have run out of coal and have been unable to obtain a fresh supply.

The third section of the bill provides for a fine of $50 a day.

MILL WASTE FOR PAPER.

Use of Lumber Waste May Cut Down Cost of Product.

Washington.—Scientists here are deeply interested in what is believed to be a means of manufacturing paper from ground wood, in which the waste of mills can be used. If successful, the plan will eliminate the cost of wood specially cut for the manufacture of paper pulp.

The pitch which heretofore interfered with the use of wood of this character is overcome in the new process by so treating the pulp that it passes off in vapor, and the fiber is recovered by subjecting the mass to a system of pressing.

The very much increased cost of paper, which has led many newspapers to increase their price or resort to the alternative of decreasing their size, has aroused experts to a study of means to reduce the cost of paper foundations.

Experiments now in progress indicate that the system of using mill waste can be made a success. Such a plant is now in operation in Vancouver, which has proven a success. The project is backed by a company with $1,000,000 of capital, and the plant, when in complete running order, will have an output of 360 tons of finished paper a week.

LOOT REVEALED IN DREAM.

Man in Maine Has Vision of Burglar Hiding Booty in Boston.

Boston.—A dream of Fred H. Crouse, a well-known restaurant keeper, has led to the recovery of several thousand dollars' worth of jewels and gold ornaments, the loot of burglars who have been infesting the neighborhood of his home for the last three months.

A week ago Crouse went into Maine on a hunting trip. The first night he dreamed that he saw a masked man enter his bedroom, open the mattress of his bed and hide the loot away. So strongly was he impressed with the dream that the next morning he wired his partner, A. E. Stoddard, to search the mattress. Stoddard visited Crouse's house and there he found the loot.

He called in the police and the valuables were taken to the station house. Most of it has been identified. Some of it was Crouse's own property. The police now want him to send them a description of what the masked man looked like.

COMPARES BUST AND HIP.

Court Decision Favors Tailor Who Claimed There Was Fixed Ratio.

Atlanta, Ga.—The court of appeals was asked to decide what should constitute the proper proportion between the female bust and hip, the question being brought before the court as the result of a suit entered in the superior court by H. J. Weller, a Cincinnati tailor against the Atlanta society woman whose name does not appear in the decision, the case being carried to the higher court on appeal.

The Cincinnati firm had received from the Atlanta woman a Persian lamb-skin coat with instructions that it be cut 40 inches in the hips and 38 in the bust. The tailor enlarged the hip measurement to 43 inches. The owner then refused to pay. The tailor declared that such a figure as the one described in the order was unheard of in the tailor business, and the change had to be made.

The court of appeals favored the tailor.

Hair Ignites in Church.

Burlington, Wis.—The ignition of a celluloid collar from the heat of a near-by stove set on fire the hair of Mrs. William Runzier while she was in the church, and she was severely burned before the fire was extinguished. Mrs. Runzier was attending services at St. John's Lutheran church, and sat near the stove. In an instant her hair was a mass of flames.

The sight nearly created a panic among the worshippers but cooler heads restrained the mob and put out the fire. It is feared that Mrs. Runzier inhaled the flames. She will be marked for life if she recovers.

ECONOMY VS. DECENCY.

Old Hubby—Dear me, Ella! You might have that dress made a little higher in the neck.

Young Wife—I'll have it altered if you like, but this stuff costs three guineas a yard.

Old Hubby—H'm!—well, it doesn't matter.

BABY CRIED AND SCRATCHED

All the Time—Covered with Torturing Eczema—Doctor Said Sores Would Last for Years—Perfect Cure by Cuticura.

"My baby niece was suffering from that terrible torture, eczema. It was all over her body but the worst was on her face and hands. She cried and scratched all the time and could not sleep night or day from the scratching. I had her under the doctor's care for a year and a half and he seemed to do her no good. I took her to the best doctor in the city and he said that she would have the sores until she was six years old. But if I had depended on the doctor my baby would have lost her mind and died from the want of aid. But I used Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment and she was cured in three months. Alice L. Dowell, 4769 Easton Ave., St. Louis, Mo., May 2 and 20, 1907."

THEIR DEGREES OF HAPPINESS.

Marital Relations of Rural Postmasters Not All Serene.

The chief clerk of the post office department at Washington recently sent to all the postmasters in the country a list of questions asking for certain information, says the New York Sun, to be used in the preparation of the government Blue Book. One of the questions in the list was, "What are your marital relations?"

The object of this particular question was to find out whether the postmasters were married, single, widowed or divorced. But some of the rural postmasters did not understand, and many answers were received in which the persons addressed endeavored to give a clear and lucid explanation of the status of their married life. One postmaster briefly stated that his domestic affairs were "Fine and dandy." Another, not so fortunate, replied: "Fairly middling," while a third filled in the blank space with two words: "The worst."

Change of Mind.

The tattooing craze was the rage among the smart set at the time of the South African war, it is now the rage in the slums among the humbler classes, especially girls, who pay threepence for the operation.

A tattooer said that this business thrives on love. A girl came into his studio the other day and had "I love Jim Curley" tattooed on her arm.

About half-past five the next morning the girl knocked at his door and on being remonstrated with said: "I don't care if yer charges me five shillins. 'Ere, kiver this up," she exclaimed, baring the tattooed arm.

Helped Him.

A physician out west was sent for to attend a small boy who was ill. He left a prescription and went away.

Returning a few days later, he found the boy better.

"Yes, doctor," said the boy's mother, "the prescription did him a world of good. I left it beside him, where he could hold it in his hand most of the time, and he can almost read it now. You didn't mean for him to swallow the paper, did you, doctor?"

COFFEE DRINKING

A Doctor Says it Weakens the Heart.

"In my opinion," says a well known German physician, "no one can truthfully say that coffee agrees with him, as it has long since been proven that caffeine, contained in coffee, is an injurious, poisonous substance which weakens and degenerates the heart muscles."

"For this reason the regular use of coffee, soon or late, causes a condition of undernourishment, which leads to various kinds of organic disease."

"Convinced of this fact, I have often sought for some healthful beverage to use instead of coffee. At last I found the thing desired in Postum. Having had occasion to forbid people using coffee, whose hearts were affected, I have recommended Postum as a beverage, since it is free from all injurious or exciting substances. I know this from results in my own family, and among patients."

"Hundreds of persons who now use Postum in place of coffee, are greatly benefited thereby." "There's a Reason." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Read, "The Road to Well-being," in pkgs.

One to Three at Whist.

The late Senator Hoar was extremely fond of whist, which he played with remarkable skill.

A friend says that the only time he ever knew the usually placid and genial man from Massachusetts to be absolutely impatient was when on one occasion at whist the senator had an unusually stupid partner. Notwithstanding this handicap, the pair were winning right along even against good players.

In the middle of one game, some one paused behind the senator's chair and asked, "Well, senator, how are you getting on?"

"Very well, indeed," was the reply. "In view of the fact that I have three adversaries."—Sunday Magazine.

Case for an Expert.

"Have you fixed up my will just the way I told you?" asked the sick man, who was the possessor of many needy relatives and some well-to-do grasping ones.

"I have," asserted the lawyer.

"Just as strong and tight as you can make it, eh?" asked the client.

The lawyer nodded.

"All right," said the sick man.

The Old Lady Was Willing.

The delinquent subscriber who had been "dunned" beyond all endurance wrote the assistant editor:

"Do let me know when I kin ketch yer editor-in-chief in his office. Every time I stop that they tell me he's out. What I want to do is to beat hell outen him!"

The assistant editor replied:

"Come right away. His wife says he's got both the devil and the other place in him, and she wants you to keep your word and beat 'em out of him. Come on."

The financial prospects of Mr. Washington Lafayette Johnson were decidedly clouded, but he still preserved a sanguine spirit, which his friends did not always appreciate.

"I'd like to borrow jes' a little money ob you," said Mr. Johnson, confidentially, to a friend. "I—I wouldn't ax you fo' it, but I ain' got a single cent left in de worl'."

"What security can you gib me?" asked his friend, without any enthusiasm.

"Why, I gib you my note ob hand!" and Mr. Johnson looked pained and amazed at such a question. "I reckon you don't know what a good, clear handwritin' I got in de ebening school."—Youth's Companion.

An All-Round Man.

William V. McManus, the new president of the Letter Carriers' association of New York, had been discussing the ideal letter carrier.

With a laugh he ended:

"Yes, the ideal letter carrier needs to be as all-round, as many-sided, as divinely gifted, as the man a Cincinnati suburbanite advertised for last month."

"The advertisement ran:
